- Europe continues to be a promising market and is being watched for new growth opportunities.

Overall:

We continue to see growth opportunity through share gain in the non-oral care category in Europe and Americas backed by strong customer engagement and new capabilities deployed across our units. Europe is a clear example. Sluggish condition in India, we believe, is a temporary phase. India returning to high teen growth and the continued success in our on-going China non-oral care thrust, should help the sales growth to step up in the coming quarters. Debt reduction and lower interest cost helped by strong cash flows will further benefit the bottom line.
